are some handy tips that will help you get the most out of Thunderbird. Create a new mail account You can create a new account using the information you enter in the fields, or you can use your existing settings. You will need to provide a name, a password, and an email address. When you are done, click on Create Account. Import your contacts If you want to import your contacts from other email clients, like Outlook or Windows Live Mail, you can do so easily. Open the Contacts Manager and click Import Contacts. You will need to enter a folder location, and then the new contacts will appear in the list. Select the contacts you want to import, and click Import Contacts. Check your spam folder If you are using a spam filter or have set up several filters, you may not get messages in your inbox. The message may appear in the Spam folder instead. To find out where your messages are located, open the Mail window, click on the Spam folder icon in the right panel, and then click on the name of the spam folder. Create a new group If you have several contacts who use Thunderbird, you can create a new group. You can give a name to your group and add the contacts you want to group together. When you are done

Works With: Windows

9/8/8.1/7/XP/Vista/2003/2000/NT4/ME/95/98/ME98/NT5.1/NT5.0/NT4.0/NT The Galaxy S4 might not be the first Android device on the market with a screen as big as this one, but it is one of the biggest. And no wonder, with a pixel density of 468ppi and a 5.2-inch Quad HD display. Aside from that, Samsung's newest flagship smartphone was designed to look the part as well. The S4 comes in midnight black and sea blue shades, but you can still opt for the more colorful matte black and white as well. And speaking of which, if you plan to pick up the metal version, you'll get to choose between gunmetal and smoke gray finishes. More than just looks The Samsung Galaxy S4 is a powerhouse of a smartphone. It comes with one of the largest batteries we've ever seen on an Android phone, which means that you won't be sacrificing speed in the name of a bigger screen. It's also designed to be extremely durable, with its fingerprint sensor and Corning Gorilla Glass 3. The S4 is also one of the first devices in the world to ship with Android 5.0, aka Lollipop. Samsung's owners will be able to enjoy a range of software features, like Air Gestures, Dex Touch, Smart Notice, Smart Stay, S Voice, S Translator, and Smart Actions. The last three are the most important, and they will come in handy if you use the S4 in public, as it can monitor your movement in the background and then be used to unlock the phone and more. Android and Samsung have been working together to make the Galaxy S4 what it is today, and a good deal of that has gone into the software features as well. Google has provided a bunch of apps to make the S4 even more useful, like Google+ and Google Play Music. Other apps that have made their way to the S4 are Smart Reply, Google Search, Gmail, Chrome, and Android Maps. It's a big phone Let's talk size for a bit, shall we? The Galaxy S4 is big, no doubt about it. With a display of 5.2 inches, it measures 143.2 x 71.9 x 8.6mm and weighs 169 grams. If you were thinking of
